Education Endowment Foundation

Schools must demonstrate how their spending decisions are informed by research evidence, making reference to a range of sources including the Education Endowment Foundation's toolkit. In line with the EEF's pupil premium guide, activities should include those that:

- support the quality of teaching, such as staff professional development;
- provide targeted academic support, such as tutoring; and
- tackle non-academic barriers to success in school, such as attendance, behaviour and social and emotional support.

Heald Place Primary School is situated roughly 2 miles from the centre of Manchester. It serves a rich and diverse community. At its heart are vibrant businesses with the universities, Manchester Museum and the Whitworth Art Gallery, all within walking distance of the school.

Heald Place is a warm, welcoming school which is committed to the welfare and pastoral care of its pupils. The staff aim to bring out the best in each child and have high expectations of achievement, progress and behaviour. We believe in providing our pupils with real, first hand experiences, activities or trips that they might otherwise not have the opportunity to access.

We are always looking at ways to provide a wide range of curricular and extra-curricular activities to prepare our young people for life and the additional skills, cooperation, problem solving and resilience that participation in these offers.

Heald Place provides the ideal setting for pupils to develop as individuals and responsible members of the school, its community and the larger community of Manchester and beyond.

The partnership between the family at home and at school provides a strong foundation for the pupils to grow and develop to their full potential.
